Secure the benefits with the way to pay

Equip your self-service offer with ADVAM's proven payment solution

Retailers around the world are installing more self-service kiosks to transform their in-store experience and reduce costs-to-serve.

At the same time, operators are expanding the range of products and services available through vending machines, delivering better choice to consumers everywhere.

Self-service technology works well in a world that's seeing demand for touch-free, hygienic payment methods accelerate.

It's a proven, capable and scalable technology that's ready to meet this vital, consumer-led priority.

ADVAM's UnattendedPayments solution enables consumers to make contactless payments via cards and mobile wallets quickly and securely.
