

UL Solutions inspection services for consumer goods and products

Quality, expertise and innovation

Third party inspections are a key part of a global Quality Assurance (QA) program to help verify that your product meets specifications prior to release and shipment.

A customized inspection program can leverage UL Solutions' global footprint, product expertise, and data management dashboard to minimize the risk of shipping substandard products and optimize your global supply chain.

Pressure from market demands

The global market is constantly asking you to:

Improve your time-to-market

Demonstrate
quality and accuracy
of your products

Prevent defective products from reaching your customers

If a product does not meet safety and quality specifications during the production phase, this can result in:

Loss of product
and revenues

Delayed shipment
or wasted materials

Potential risk of a product recall
